New Student Orientation FAQs/Spring 2022

Is Orientation required?

Yes. All new students are required to attend Orientation. During orientation, students learn about various campus resources and departments considered essential to their success while attending Mount Marty University. Getting off to a great start at Mount Marty is much easier when students know where to go, how to get there, where to study, and who to ask for help.

Should family members attend orientation?

Due to COVID-19 concerns, family members will not be able to attend New Student Orientation.

How long will it take?

New Student Orientation is a full day event.

What do I need to bring?

New students should bring one form of ID, their laptop, their class schedule (if they have a copy of it), their car's license plate numbers/letters, and a copy of immunization records (if these were not previously sent.)

What happens at Orientation?

Orientation is designed to provide you with the information needed to be successful in your academic life. You will meet a variety of faculty and staff that will guide you through information sessions to assist you with the transition to MMU. You will have the opportunity to meet other new students as well.

Will lunch be provided during Orientation?

Yes, lunch will be provided for all new students on Friday, January 14, 2022. For residential students with a meal plan regular food service and hours begin on Sunday, January 16, 2022 at 5 pm.

Who do I contact if I have other questions about New Student Orientation?

Lisa Willcockson, Director of Engagement is the person in charge of New Student Orientation. She can be reached at 605-668-1302 or lisa.willcockson@mountmarty.edu.
